TERRY WAYNE CAPERS

I'm glad I'm the first to sign your annual. You and I were always close, but this year we just seemed closer. Rember when Duane, Anthony, Fellow, Tommie, me and you left the football game and went Hampton to see Krush Groove and the Honky Tonk man was playing. Yeah! Of Course you remember. Stay out of trouble and remember, as a friend, I love you! your friend

1. Seventh grader Kyra Hill adds a new look to the band. Petite, cute, and blonde, she adds a special dimension to the Golden Brigade. 2. Junior Paul Brandt dwells in deep concentration at practice session. Paul's determination and hard work are valuable assets to the A-F Tigers. 3. With a new view, the cheerleading squad has reached new heights. Under the leadership of Ms. Leath and Caroline Priester, the squad is excelling. 4. Under the new leadership of Coach Ron Blackmon, the mighty Tigers have a new attitude which has increased morale and spirit all over Tiger country. 5. "Why does this always happen to me?" ponders quarterback Percy Coard. Through many seasons, Percy has been plagued by injuries; however, he always manages to give a top performance! 6. "Practice makes perfect" is the motto of the Fighting Tigers. Intense practice and improving of skills proves to be beneficial when they approach the gridiron.

A New Outlook

"I've got a new attitude," is what Patti Labelle said and we caught the idea to capture the spirit of a new outlook on everything. The traditional elements of past days fled and 1986 reflected a year of blossoming and freshness.

All around the campus we found evidence of a refreshing new atmosphere. The Athletic Department was endowed with the exciting leadership of Paul Brown. Gridiron activities shifted to the capable shoulders of Ron Blackmon. The new attitude of the cheerleading squad under the vivacious coaching of Sheila Leath had fans moving and grooving in the stands. In addition to these changes, the band adopted a new force from the inspiration of Barry Wash as he began a second year of re-vitalization of the Golden Brigade. The Tigerama dared to breach tradition and publish in new hues. All of the original contributions of these groups created a certain pep in our step and vitality in our outlook.

A broader more sweeping change was in the making. A vibrant sense of anticipation permeated us all as plans were put in full swing for the new high school. Ground was broken and construction begun on the new facility adjacent to the Vocational School. It represented the epitome of modern attitudes, change, and blending of old and new values.

Controlling and guiding the whole of our educational experience was the capable leadership of Dr. Dill Gamble, our new superintendent. The expertise and knowledge of fresh administration brightened spirits and led the way for change. Students were encouraged by the reinstatement of SOC HOPS, a cherished post-game social event. This change was attributed to the leadership of Dr. Gamble and Principal Frank Hassell.

The impact of the second year under a strong state educational reform was felt by students personally as they geared down to meet new academic requirements for sports, club activities, and requirements for graduation. As with all progress, some of these changes were met with skepticism. However, we actively took part in their explosiveness. When history was made of 1986, it definitely reflected innovative phases.

Experiencing Everyday Events

1. My favorite period? Lunch, of course, states Ricky Patterson. Waiting eagerly in line is Mark Ward. 2. Heavy concentration . . . Sandra Park, a junior honor student, perches on one of the "comfortable" swing-out stools in chemistry class seemingly oblivious to her precarious position. 3. A very typical scene . . . caught with the obligatory yellow hall pass is Gail Jones. 4. Well, maybe not an everyday event . . . a gremlin in chemistry? With shades, yet? It's legal because it is part of Stephanie Smart's particpation in Spirit Week.

"Are my study sheets correct? Will I know the answer to the question she asks me? Will I ever remember all the facts about the constitution and all the presidents?"
2. Sunny days make for much easier maneuvering for those who have classes in the portables.

Hangouts After Hours

Socializing was a very important part of our lives. When questioned about their favorite place to go after a game, students gave different answers.

Living in a rural area, we found no bowling alleys, movie theaters, or skating rinks close by. Knowing this, we had to find our own places to meet with our friends, just to hangout!

"Hangouts," as some people called them were what kept friends in touch with each other. After a game, Fleetwood's or D.J.'s was the place to be.

There we could find a camaraderie which cemented friendships begun at school. We could experience the latest music as we grabbed quick snacks or enjoyed a leisurely late night supper. Besides good conversation we could practice our skills at electronic games such as Pac Man, Poker, Karate Kid and that old standby, billiards. Without hangouts, where could we have gone! Home?!?

Delivering the goods

If it was edible, we bought it. Clubs and organizations could never fail to raise funds by tempting students, faculty and the community with delicacies — Snickers, M&M's, and doughnuts led the list of favorites.

An elaborate school calendar of fund raising events started in September and from then until April one could always purchase a treat to sneak between classes, substitute for breakfast or fill out a meager lunch.

The rule stated — no eating in class — but the trusty little yellow, red, green and brown M&M's could be munched unnoticed especially if you resisted the urge to crunch. "They melt in your mouth, not in your hands." But only the brave tried to eat the peanut ones — they were noisy and should the teacher lean over your desk, you could be discovered by "peanut breath."

Snickers were good for lunch. They were hearty and good for you with all that milk and peanuts for protein. But they were disastrous in the classroom. Too chewy. No way to hide the evidence.

Doughnuts were a different matter. One did not even contemplate them for the classroom. Indeed only a few were eaten at school. The cherished red, green and white boxes were lugged home to be shared with the family for snacks and breakfast. And they were the king of sellers!

Undoubtedly, the most popular form of fund raising was doughnuts. The profit was remarkable but the best part was that they sold themselves. Incredible numbers were sold in the community — a feat to be found only in a rural town with no Krispy Kreme shop, no Dunkin Donuts. The townspeople loved them — soft, sweet, fresh calorie-laden treats.

Delivery days were exciting. Yummy bakery smells filled the air. Students laden with bags and boxes of goodies treked out to waiting customers.

Everyone else is eating lunch and you don't have any lunch money and sit around like a dummy saying, "I'm not hungry."

You take a girl to an expensive restaurant and when the check comes you don't have enough money to cover it.

You're walking in front of a large crowd of people and you trip and fall over nothing at all.

You are trying to act dignified and you choke on wine at church during the communion service.

You break 1000 on the SAT only to find out you have someone else's scores.

You finally finish typing your 20 page term paper and your kid sister thinks it's fun to draw on it.

You finally get a date with a gorgeous hunk and your parents say you have to babysit your little brother.

Involvement A New Outlook

Breaking the Rules

Everybody experienced the joy of Spirit Week — even those who chose not to participate had vicarious thrills just watching the passing scene.

As usual Hobo Day was a great success and easy to prepare for. All we had to do was throw together our grungiest mis-matched things.

No one could give us a detention for eating in class on Lollipop Day. And, best of all, we could bring our Jam Boxes and play them in between classes and at lunch.

Hush Day when Student Council members could only speak among themselves ended with a water balloon throw at the bonfire for those who violated the "quiet time."

"The most fun was the water balloons," declared Miss Baxley, Student Council sponsor. "I don't think they had ever done anything like that."

A bonfire and the Traditional Colors Day rounded out an exciting, spirit-filled week.

A Hollywood Finish

A last minute rush to find a chariot fit for a queen . . .

The queen almost had no chariot. A last minute scramble by Christine Williams ended in a Hollywood finish. Hurrying to Fairfax at the last minute to get a forgotten camera, Christine was horrified to discover that she couldn't start the rented car. In her panic to get it started, she inadvertently left the keys locked inside! One catastrophe followed another and after many phone calls, Christine finally secured her aunt's new automobile — just minutes before half-time. Through it all, Miss Baxley, sponsor of the Homecoming activities, remained calm. "I just decided not to get into a panic. It was just not worth it!" Rightly so. Everything was simply enchanting.

Service Oriented

One of the goals of every student was to achieve scholastic excellence. Here at A-F, a club for such achievers was available, the National Honor Society. Sponsors of this prestigious club were Mrs. Linda Willams and Mr. Nathaniel Harper. Their lofty aim was to provide charitable contributions to the school and community.

The NHS commenced with the raising of funds through Doughnut Sales and Calendar Sales. Although the Doughnut Sale did not gross as it should have, Mrs. Williams was pleased with the results of the Calendar Sale. Efforts were then underway to re-open the NHS supply store which furnished students with their last minute school accessories. Formerly, the store had brought in substantial income and the club rallied to continue this service to the school.

As a service to the school, the community, and the Red Cross, the NHS hoped to start a blood drive. The proposed drive would take place in April and great results were expected. In the past, the club had surpassed its goal and thus contributed significantly to the blood supply of the county.

This service oriented group was definitely on the move. A bright, free-spirited society of carefully selected individuals, these students chose every opportunity to live up to their name.

New inductees Sandra Park and Pamela Main smile enthusiastically as they become full-fledged Williamson Chapter NHS members.

Beta Member Robert Bowers lights a candle as a ritual in the NHS induction ceremony. The candle-lighting represents the attributes of NHS members. These attributes are leadership, scholarship, character, and service.

Accolades

The Golden Brigade catapulted into what appears to be their best season lately through grueling summer practices in late July and early August. Any band member will admit that it took stamina, dedication, insect repellent, and other hard-to-obtain aspects of character to endure Mr. Wash's inclination towards perfection.

This year's successes, however, serve as evidence that no effort was in vain. The Brigade carried on the tradition of performing at the football games and continued to be a driving force behind the spirit of the crowd. This myriad of musicians also competed in three major marching contests. At Barnwell Music In Motion, Drum Majors Sheila White and Sheila Ingram captured Best Drum Major laurels. At the Palmetto Band Classic in Walterboro and the Carolina Lowcountry Tournament of Bands held in Bamberg, the Golden Brigade captured 3rd place in Class A. Here it should be remarked that at both contests, Class A had the larges. field of bands (7-10) as opposed to the other classes.

The band also has a long list of other activities in which they were actively involved. Among these activities are the Christmas and Spring Festival parades, Solo and Ensemble, Edisto Conference, All State, and the presentation of a spring concert.

The band will lose only four seniors to graduation: Band Captains — Pamela Coard and Shirley Ingram and Drum Majors — Sheila Ingram and Sheila White. Because of the active role played by these members their loss will not go unnoticed. Despite the loss, Mr. Wash stated that he is "looking forward to bigger and better things in the up and coming future." Justification for this statement lies with the fact that the band is very young (comprised of many 7th and 8th graders) and as it "grows up," the obvious presumption is that the quality of their performances will greatly improve.

In any case, the Golden Brigade has a bright future and should enjoy many mo.e successes.

Careers for the Mid '80's

Future Business Leaders of America has been a traditional club for Vocational School students taking business courses.

The highlight for every member was selling. This year they sold items from the Tom Watt Showcase Box. Sales determined eligibility to attend the State Conference in Hilton Head, SC. Most of the members qualified.

With the guidance of Mrs. Jacqueline Frazier, Mrs. Vickie Young, and Mrs. Addie Law seven members also attended the District Conference in Business Education of competitive events at Wade Hampton High School.

The members were also hoping to take a trip to Washington, D.C. during the summer. Mrs. Frazier commented on how grateful she was to know that students were eager to learn more, so they will be qualified "Future Leaders."

"We are a growing club under new leadership," said Wilbur Wallace. The VICAS are in a period of transition under the new leadership of Ron Blackmon and Selena Tomlin. Anticipation of new activity is high, especially since few of the members are seniors and it is expected that many will return. Vocational and technical careers are prominent in the job trends of the mid 80's and these young people intend to get an inside view of their prospects.

Togetherness

This year as a new attitude prevailed throughout the school and Student Council took on a new attitude also. Working to open doors once closed and changing the old methods, this year's council reached unbelievable heights. With the devotion of second year advisor, Ms. Brenda Baxley, and council members combined, this group overcame obstacles and made the 1985-1986 school year full of life.

The greatest achievement was the reinstatement of the Sock Hop. With the new outlook of a new superintendent, Dr. Gamble, they were able to bring back these student socials. Response from students was good and Sock Hops returned in full force. The aggregation also worked with the administration to improve other problems around the school concerning students' interest.

Again the council carried its normal activities such as fund-raising, Homecoming and Spirit Week. An added dimension of spirit would be seen throughout the student body in their energy and enthusiasm.

When asked about the year, Student Body President Stephanie Drayton replied, "I feel as if this year was very productive. I think we did a lot to increase student morale and overall school togetherness with our activities and I hope next year will be just as or even more rewarding." Hats off to Student Council! They have completed a job well done!!!

Possums Invade Ivy League

The Possums completed yet another successful season. Although they lost several prominent seniors, they recruited some exceptional freshmen which have proven their talent.

Co-Captain Caroline Priester expressed that the team had an overall good year considering the fact that the team was so young. Caroline was quoted as saying "I am sad to be a senior because I believe the team is going to be strong next year also."

The Forensics Team hosted their annual A-F Invitational which has proven to be very successful. The Students have a chance to see what it is like to work in a Tabb room and see exactly how a tournament is run.

The Possums traveled to various states all year long, but their most outstanding trip was the one to the Ivy League at the Harvard University Campus in Boston. A select group of students made application and, based upon their debating experience, were selected to make this tour. Much effort went into preparing for and raising money for this elite experience. The chosen few were Sheila White, Sandra Park, Caroline Priester, Percy Coard, Sims Floyd, Rachel Causey and Gerald Perry.

APPRECIATION

for our teachers

Appreciation of teachers was the outstanding emphasis of the Future Homemakers of America — HERO Chapter. Each member of this group chose a teacher to befriend during the "We Appreciate Our Teachers" month. This delightful project had students searching for little ways to assist their teacher by doing deeds of kindness. For Valentine's Day the club member presented his/her teacher with a box of candy.

"We have a relatively large club and that will make us work harder for a much better year," said Stephanie Smart. And work they did with sales of candy and doughnuts. In fact, as part of these sales activities, Sonja Ritter was named Doughnut Queen having sold 60 dozen boxes of the sweet stuff. Her court of runners-up was Tonia Capers and Nevada Robinson.

To reward themselves, members planned an annual spring trip to Disney World.

"Is there anyone not doing anything now?" "Put this on the quad pack." "Oh no! I've typed this twice." "Why didn't someone tell me how much copy would be in this space. It's impossible to write a whole column on a club that has done two things this year." "How do you expect me to draw a layout with one group picture and no candids?" "Cut that tape off — we've heard Klymax eight times already!" "Oh no! I've got one more person in the junior class than I've got space for."

Its new name is the Media Center. Libraries no longer consist only of dusty books and yellowing magazines. Bright book jackets, best sellers, the newest periodicals, and of course, those challenging and fascinating computers populate the Media Center. It's an active place. A place to do research for an English term paper; a place to catch today's newspaper; a place to see what People magazine says about Emilio Estevez and the Brat Pack; a place to check out a book on Super Bowl statistics; a place to explore the wonders of modern electronics through computers.

Library Assistants are in the middle of all this activity helping to shelve and check out books, file materials, keep things in order and relieve the Media Specialists of minor details. It's an exciting and useful alternative to study hall.

Getting Involved

"Allendale-Fairfax High School — Yes, just one moment, please." "Here, take this note to Mr.Pym's room." "Please file these in the teachers' boxes." "Run out to Room 32 and get Jane Doe." "Please staple these handouts." "Get me Bill Brown's schedule card." "It's time to pick up the blue cards." "Go out to the mail box and get those bundles." "Run down to Mrs. Perry's room and take this material."

Run, take, go, staple, put, pick up. There's a lot more action in being an Office Aide than one might imagine. It's a rather hectic place to be and these people are invaluable to the secretaries and principals.

Hot off the Presses

The Tiger Times staff considered their paper a success for a number of reasons. Percy Coard, Editor-In-Chief noted, "We lost a great number of seniors last year who were expectional reporters. We had to fill those positions with incoming freshmen who have done a better than satisfactory job. The success of the Tiger Times is due partly to the new additions which were made to the paper this year."

Steven Breeland was made an honorary member of staff this year as several of his cartoons and sketches were used as illustrations.

This year saw the return of an old success, that of broadcasting journalism. The staff was featured on Allendale's very own WYXZ-WDOG with a weekly broadcast of 30 minutes. The program was designed to keep the community abreast of the events of the school society. This broadcast had the dual impact of fostering a positive public image for the school and providing students with invaluable experience.

T.A.D.D. (Teens Against Drinking and Drugs) was one of the new clubs for the year. Organized by a group of four that attended a workshop at Francis Marion College, T.A.D.D. was a hit for the students.

T.A.D.D. is a group that helps students with their problems of drinking and with drugs. The members are to help, not condemn or punish. T.A.D.D. recognized the fears faced by students and helped them try to understand them.

This club started off with a flurry of activity. During the year T.A.D.D. sponsored the signing of the S.A.D.D. Contracts for Life. Sixteen members participated in this project during Christmas. To promote T.A.D.D., they also held a poster contest that was won by Steven Breeland. A special event was a dance for the members and one guest. This was a big hit. No alcohol was involved and it was a great success. Also, during the week of Valentine's, T.A.D.D. had a "warm fuzzy day."

When talking to member Tracy Hallman, she thought T.A.D.D. was a better success than she had expected. And when talking to Advisor Mrs. Janet Watkins she stated that she thought T.A.D.D. got off to a slow start, but she saw great quality in the members and she thought the message of alcohol and drug prevention was being spread with the help of T.A.D.D.

As new vitality flows

Choral Music Attains New Heights

New vitality flowed from the choral music department and caught fire all through the school. This fine arts elective class witnessed many improvements under the direction of Alan Brown. The chorus performed at Open House, for a Christmas Concert and in the spring. The return of state ensemble competition brought new excitement and participation of talented singers. Students were inspired to new heights under the tutelage of Mr. Brown who had numerous plans for the future.

Chorus offered the opportunity to learn the variety of the styles of music as well as reading music and proper singing techniques. It also fostered the feeling of pride in learning and performing before an audience.

Eight selected members of the musical aggregation went to the State Competition. Their selection, "Honor and Glory" by J. S. Boch, proves that classical ability lives in Tiger country. Members of the ensemble are Clevette Fields, Christin Priester, Rose White, Joyce Fullington, Tonette Myers, Joyce Daniuels, Mr. Brown and Melvin Lofton. 3. How glad we are to have the experience and enthusiasm of Alan Brown as our new Choral Music Teacher. This Newberry graduate is a fine addition to the A-F family.

ON BROADWAY

Broadway invaded our community in the form of the new Show Choir. The brain child of new choral music teacher, Alan Brown, this musical entity was formed to provide talented students the opportunity to perform different types of music such as pop, modern and jazz. Featured music were tunes from famous Broadway shows from the history of the American theatre. Their musical selections were choreographed for added interest.

Audition for membership was quite competitive. Twenty-eight students auditioned for the Show Choir. Each person sang a selection of his choice and performed a required dance step. Twelve lucky and talented girls made the final selection.

The Show Choir had plans to perform for several community and school functions. It was a classy edition to our school family.

Challenging Experience

"S.A.E. is an organization that instills in students the philosophy that education is the key to success," says Shontell Devore. Student Action for Education is an organization for students who are considering going into the field of education. This is a very active club. To begin the year they sponsored Open House which gave parents an opportunity to come and visit classrooms and also to meet the faculty and staff. S.A.E. is really in action. They attended the fall and spring assemblies which were held at the SCEA building in Columbia. To highlight the year, some of the members travelled to Myrtle Beach to the state convention held in April. Shirley Ingram states, "S.A.E. is a challenging experience."

Great Spirit

Behind every great man is a woman; behind every great team is school spirit. The crowd's cries send the air as echoes are heard . . .

With arms and pom-poms flying, the cheerleaders lead but it is the crowd which captures the true spirit. The newly formed Pep Club is right there to cheer on the Tigers. The team does indeed change, spurred on by the spirit of the crowd. Behind every great school are her spirit leaders.

1. Is it a raid? No, it's just Allendale-Fairfax students cheering on the J.V.'s to victory. Stephanie Smart, Pep Club member leads the crowd. Here we go TIGERS! The new sweat shirts are not only attractive but also lend a festive air to the stands as the perky shirts are spotted all over the crowd. High Standards of Scholarship and Service

Betas work for benefit of others

Success bred success! And, as usual, the Beta Club lived up to its reputation. Loyal members under the capable leadership of Caroline Priester, president, worked diligently to reach goals and continue its high standards of scholarship and service.

Members gave unselfishly of their time and talents as they visited area nursing homes to bring smiles and cheer to the elderly of the community. The annual Rose Sale for Valentine's Day, brought needed finances and at the same time gave students a special way to express feelings to someone special. A highlight of the year is the annual Powder Puff Football Game. As stated by Caroline, "Since a lot of things have been taken away by the EIA, this does a lot for morale and school spirit. It is completely for the benefit of the student body." "Beta Club is not only an honor but also an opportunity for fun and service," says Stephanie Smart, treasurer.

1. Rennie Nichols, a happy new inductee, is congratulated by Caroline Priester, President of the BETA CLUB. 2. During induction, along with other members, Caroline explains the functions of the Beta Club and the activities planned for the upcoming year.

Appreciate the Classics

3▼

December is a special month to me. Because of this, I have some special activities planned which include the teaching O Henry's "The Gift of the Magi" and Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol.

Lisa Nettles

In a time of change, the students at Allendale-Fairfax High School are an exciting challenge.

Betty Sanders

I think the majority of the students here at Allendale-Fairfax High School are capable, worth knowing, and well-behaved.

Lisa Nettles

All of my students are being required to read at least two classic works of literature this year. They are to learn why a classic is such and how to appreciate such classics. English IV students will write a senior dissertation on one of these classics.

Dean Nettles

I've wanted to be a teacher since the ninth grade. I feel this is due to an altruistic quality innate to all teachers.

Dean Nettles

"I think English III is fun, all alive, and also interesting."

Shonia Garvin

English III with Ms. Baxley this year has been very interesting and a lot of fun. We are always learning new and exciting things.

Sonya Henderson

1. A minimum of four years of English is required for graduation. A bright smile and a positive attitude make the experience more bearable. Such is the philosophy of Cassandra Mitchell. 2. Going through the rigorous paces of Mrs. Siren's class are Collette Priester, Teresa Porter, Tammy Brant, Scott Young, Ronnell Moore, Charonda Freeman. 3. Ready for The Scarlett Letter and The Grapes of Wrath is Gail Grant.

Potential to Achieve

I went into Science because I never quit asking "why?" all the time. I went into teaching because I love to learn and I love people. I like to be the center of attention — and in teaching you get all of that.

Janet Watkins

I enjoy working with students. I had good teachers in school and they made me want to give students that same quality.

Sheila Curry

The students here are your typical high school students. They are friendly and have the potential to achieve the goals they set for themselves.

Kinnerly Hestand

I think many of the students are too content to be on the sidelines of learning instead of challenging themselves to jump into new and varied areas.

Sheila Curry

Biology is very interesting. Although we had to change teachers, we all seem to learn facts and enjoy the class.

Rennie Nichols

Mrs. Watkins makes science, a boring subject, fun!

Pam Main

1. Gathering for a flame test for metals demonstration in Mrs. Curry's Physical Science class are Tony Fredrick, Renee Polite, Lavon Elmore, Marcy Morrell, Lisa Ali, Wendell Bowers, James Freeman, Brenda Brown, Tonya Elmore, Ronnie Frazier, David Topper, Cornelius Riley, and Tonya Britt. 2. Shielded by the required goggles and plastic aprons are Melissa Moody and Walt Windham in the senior Physics class. A titration experiment requires extremely accurate measurement and good lab technique.

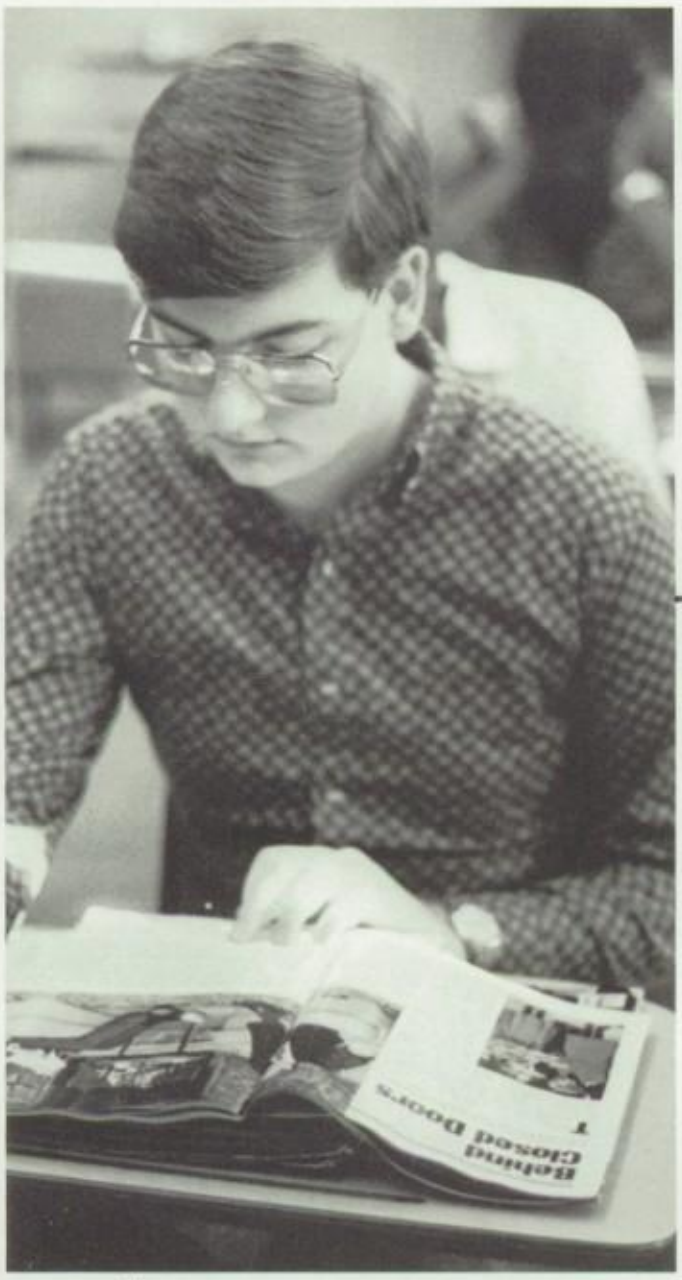
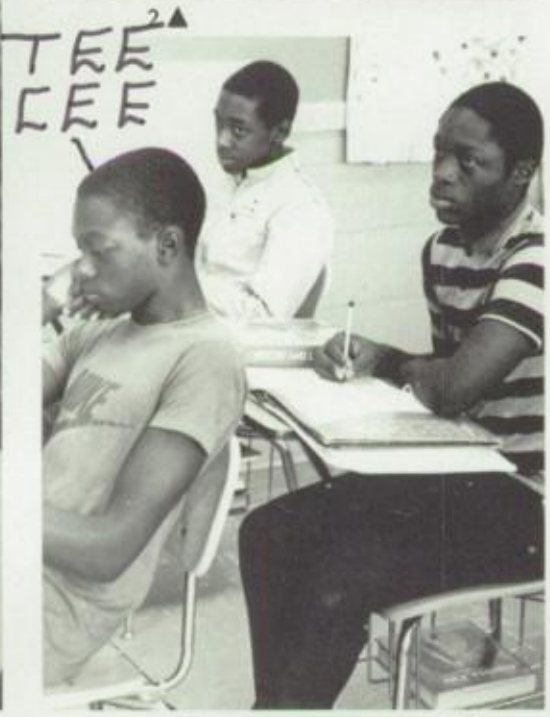
Reading is Cool



1▲



2▲ 3▼ 4▼

My main goal as a teacher is two-fold . . . to produce adequate (or better) college history students and to try to broaden the horizons of a very provincial student body.

Joe Siren

My main goal as a teacher is to compel each student to become a little more knowledgeable than he, or she, was the day before, and to give students a better concept of the significance government and economics play in their lives — not only today, but tomorrow. When a parent asks, "What did you learn in Mr. Daley's class today?", I want the student to reply with something other than blank stares.

Bob Daley

I can never forget the very good social studies teacher I had in sixth grade. I give credit to her for my choice to be a teacher.

Lillian Lawton

I've really enjoyed the overwhelming majority of students at A-F. Most show a great deal of respect for the teaching staff. I wish very much that more value was placed on education, earlier on. I wish that the average student had a more solid background in reading and writing skills. I wish that reading was "cool," and not frowned upon. I'm critical because I care.

Bob Daley

There is never a minute's break. You have to study, study, study!

Elaine Smith

Economics is a class required for graduation, but it also helps prepare students for the world beyond school.

Lesa Sarver

1. Leaving any of Miss Tuten's classes, you will have learned much. Miss Tuten's life has touched thousands in Allendale County and beyond as a result of her teaching career. Although economics is a tough subject, Robert Bowers, voted most intellectual senior, takes it in stride. 2. Every student leaves U.S. History knowing the presidents and having accomplished the greater challenge of understanding cause and effect. Ask Mike Stanley; he knows. 3. Concentrate before speaking is the key factor in Mr. Siren's class where students have fun while learning. World History opens new vistas for Terry Capers, William Dunbar and McKenzie Williams. 4. Music scholarship recipient Melissa Googe tackles another Newsweek magazine in Economics — Government.

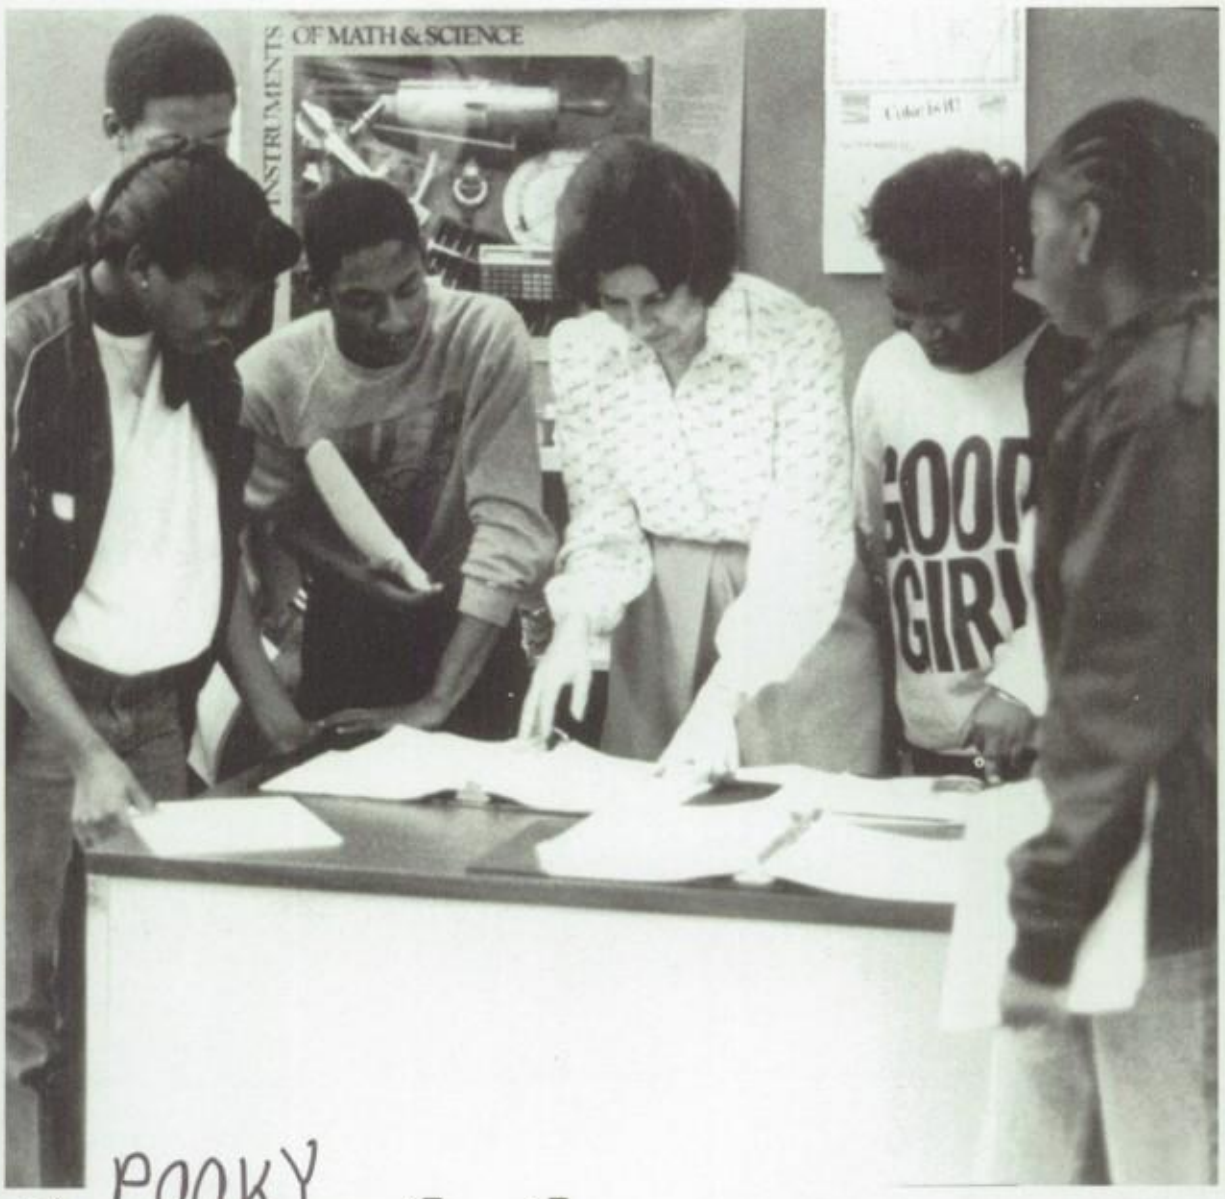
Teaching How to Think



I decided to teach because no professional life could be more exciting, interesting, or important than being a teacher. Teachers are models of society whose influence is great. Through their pupils they can contribute to the shaping of the society.

Kamran Assadian

I got lost and took a wrong turn on my way to the Forestry Department. No, really, teaching is something I've wanted to do since high school.

Joe Ramsbotham

My main goal as a teacher is to stimulate thought and improve problem solving ability. I think the best objective a teacher can teach is how to think.

Ruth Riter

The students are great. They need to know that (we) the teachers put their interest first. We have a few bad eggs, but as a composite group they are super.

Almeda Lofton

Mr. Assadian really makes Algebra 1 fun. There is never a dull moment in his class. I am learning the many fundamentals of Algebra concepts.

Janet Easterlin

Ms. Riter's class is one I will never forget as long as I live.

Windi Williams

1. Getting a new edge on math skills are Jackie Wright, Michael Roberts, Dewain Young, Gloria Payne, and Tina Kearse as they study with Mrs. Clayton in the new computer based Math Lab. 2. Deep concentration and much patience are required in Miss Riter's Algebra II class. Dawan Smith and other college prep students hone their skills for the SAT. 3. Assertiveness is the key to understanding and assimulation of math skills required for a technical society. Taking the plunge are Mike Priester, Traci Riley, Tracy Manuel, Gail Grant, and Shonia Garvin.

Ability to Communicate

◀ 1. Exhibiting art skills in Art II class is expected, but taking them around with you all day is definitely an extra task. This checker-board side affect is exactly the type of art work that sophomore Charlotte Diehl will have to live with for a while.

My main goals in teaching are to help each student learn as much French as he or she can and to realize that each country has its own way of life. Our way of doing things (culture) is not the only way, nor necessarily the best.

Linda Williams

I like to think that all of the projects we do in Art are special in one way or another, however, the project on portrait drawing in Art II was quite challenging and is not a project which I do regularly in my classes.

David Pym

Art is like creating your own world where everything is in your control. It is a way of expressing your feeling by changing otherwise verbal actions into silent pictures.

Tyrone Hanberry

Art is the expression of human feelings and emotions, a way to express yourself. I learn the ability to communicate with others.

Mike Stanley

Salut! There is only one way to describe French class, "magnifique." Madame Williams is one of the factors that contributes to this spontaneous class.

Au-Revoir,
Gail Grant

Bonjour Ses Amie! If you thought French I was fun just wait until French II! French class helps broaden your knowledge about the French language as well as cultures and customs.

Au-Revoir,
Charla Harney

2. Art II student, Tyrone Hanberry, exhibits true talent, that he has improved by the instruction of Mr. Pym. 3. Trés terrific! This is what many French II students say about their class. Madame Williams shows true French hospitality in her teachings so that everyone will understand the fundamentals of the French language, just as Dianne Moore does. 4. Tired, but ready to learn French II is Rebecca Gallagher. French can be difficult to learn but it is trés magnifique!

Superior Talents

In my opinion, chorus class is an academic which helps to refresh my interest in a special kind of communication — through music!!! In chorus class I am given a chance to express different types of emotions and I have a chance to share my talents with other students. By doing this, I can contrast our similarities and our differences. I really learn a lot from the other students because everyone has a unique style transforming music.

Joyce Daniels

Band is, in my opinion, wonderful. We work very hard to be the best and I believe we are the best. We practice very hard to perform during halftime activities which gives us a chance to show off our superior talents. We have really achieved a great deal but none of our achievements would have been possible without our band director.

Sheila Ingram

In choral music we have exciting expectations for this year. For the first time students will have the opportunities to audition for a Show Choir which will produce a program featuring pieces from popular Broadway musicals. After the traditional Christmas program, students will prepare for a possible trip to Winthrop College for choral competition — this is the first time such an undertaking will be attempted in over fifteen years.

Alan Brown

I enjoy music very much and I also enjoy teaching students how to express themselves musically. I want to teach my students to appreciate all types of music and accept all types of music. It is important for me to get my students excited about participating in All-State, Solo and Ensemble, and Edisto Conference.

Vigorous Training

I hope to inspire just one student, who would have otherwise dropped out of school, to continue and make something of himself.

Ken Schofield

One special project that we have completed was the AAPHER Physical Fitness test. The students were able to see how they compared with other students.

Charlene Parks

My main goal as a teacher is to make some difference in some kid's life. My main goal this year is to survive Driver Education.

Paul Brown

P.E. is a very fun and exciting period of the day and it helps to build up the strength to go to the other classes.

Erica Perry

P.E. is very vigorous training that will make you more of a man. It can break you, kill you, or make you cry, but you can't quit till you die.

David Sneed

Family Living helps students adjust to the reality of life.

Timothy Hall

Home Economics is a great experience for young teenagers going into the world. You learn things that you think you already know but find out there's more to it.

Jenine Hoover

Making the Grade

Not many high schools can boast that they have a Vocational School so readily available to their students. Just one-fourth mile down the road is one of the best equipped, most beautiful vocational schools in the state.

Students may opt to take trades and industry courses such as Auto Mechanics, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration, Masonry, Machine Shop, Building Construction, Welding or Cosmetology. There is also a full Business Education Program.

Students who take a two year major in any one of these programs have a much higher chance of getting a good job or getting an edge on technical school. Cosmetology majors may take the state boards and receive their license to practice Cosmetology upon graduation.

The Vocational School is indeed a great asset to Allendale-Fairfax students.

Principle of Believing and Achieving

The principle of believing and achieving is the spirit behind the 1985 Varsity Football. Although the group of bright young men lost 19 players to graduation, with hard work and dedication these same young men compiled a 7-3 record. Adjusting to losses and changes isn't easy but sacrifices and provisions must be made. This year's team was forced to adjust to an entirely new coaching style — that of Head Coach Ron Blackmon.

Although Coach Blackmon worked with the team previously, he now took on a new role. Coach Blackmon combined all aspects of coaching to achieve the ultimate goal — a team of above average performance. Excellence is not achieved without assistance. This year Coach Blackmon combined new assistant coaches with veterans of Tiger tradition. This combination led to a team unstoppable on both offense and defense. When all of these coaching assets combined this equaled a team that stalked its opponents and left wins of those who fell to Tiger dominance.

As with any year, the team expected to lose players but the 1986 year the losses weren't to be as heavy. The team lost approximately nine players. This left behind a squad of energetic, dedicated and determined young men to carry on the Tiger legacy — a legacy implanted deep in the hearts and minds of all fans of the Mighty Fighting Tigers.

Although we didn't make the playoffs, I feel as though next year's team will be fresh. We were plagued by inexperience and next year should show drastic improvements. I enjoyed being there.

High Five in '85

The High-Five was truly alive in '85 for those Tigers of Allendale-Fairfax. The High-Five was a way to release all possible excitement. It served as a form of celebration after a great play had been made. There was the ever so famous one-hander High-Five, the very reliable two hander, and the newest high-five featured the execution of the 360 degree turn double clap. There were many ways to express feelings, and the Hive-Five was one of the best. This universal sign of jubilation characterized the cohesive spirit of the 1985 cats.

NEW KIDS ON THE BLOCK

Assuming new positions in the Athletic Department are trainer, Sheila Curry and head football coach, Ron Blackmon.

Coach Curry received her B.A. in Physical Education at Shepard College and her M.S. in Athletic Training from Marshall College. She is married and has two sons, ages eleven and nine. Coach Curry states that her reason for joining us was the job opportunity. When asked why she chose her particular profession, Curry responded, "I love the game and I love kids." Dismayed by the small attendance at games, she suggests, "It hurts the kids (team) because they practice hard to come out on Friday nights to see the stands so empty." Overall she indicates that she likes her first year and plans to stay a while.

Coach Blackmon is not exactly a newcomer because he was here last year as assistant to Coach Williams. After the departure of Williams in 1984, Blackmon was offered the position of head coach and with it "the responsibility of taking all the blame of team losses and all the applause of team wins." Like Curry, his reason for choosing his profession is his love for the game and his love to see kids win at everything. He states that this team may be his most memorable, or close to it, because it is his first. Also, he is proud of the team because they rallied so well to learning a new coaching philosophy. His overall philosophy is, "If you improve daily, you are a winner."

Coaches Curry and Blackmon — you are winners in our eyes. Welcome to the block!!!

Never Quit

Like the Varsity Football team of Allendale-Fairfax, the Junior Varsity team also had to adjust to changes and to make sacrifices. This year the Tigers faced the dilemna of adjusting to two different coaching styles. First the Tigers were favored with the leadership of Coach Leon Peacock, a newcomer to Allendale and a man whose talents in football are deeply embedded. After the loss of Coach Peacock, the second coach arrived — Coach Walter Banks. Banks is the In-School Suspension Director at A-F and with the help of Coach Tracey Epps led the J.V. Football team to a 4-4 record.

The "never-quit" attitude has been the philosophy of these guys for quite some time. The ability to keep looking up is what has made the team flourish to reach new heights. This determination combined with excellent coaching and promising talents have gained the J.V. team a place of recognition here at A-F.

The most negative point concerning these young men is the lack of support they receive. Attendance at J.V. games is very scarce. The talents of these players has shown their drive for excellence and it is the duty of students and everyone to support this team on their quest for superiority.

The season was good; we had a good time learning and everybody worked hard. Although most of our players were new and inexperienced, I think Coach Banks and Coach Epps worked diligently to produce an outstanding team.

On the Road Again

Looking for a Championship

The old cliche goes something like this "Offense will win games, but defense will win championships." Coach Brown stresses this every second of every minute of every hour of every day of his intense practices. Defense may be the single most important thing of this team which is without the superstars of years past. With only one returning starter, Billy Crumley, this year was to be a rebuilding one for Brown and the Tigers. This may be the youngest team in history with only three seniors, Billy Crumley, Truck Wallace, and Melvin Lofton. However there are a number of noteworthy underclassmen, Herman, Gray, Derrick Allen, and Percy Coard. The Tigers have suffered the agony of defeat a few times thus far in the season, but after every loss the players could look in one another's eyes and know that they gave their all and that the next time they would try even more diligently to accomplish their common goal — winning! The Tigers always give all who come to the games a thrilling show. The goal of this team is to make the playoffs and be able to have chance at the big prize, the state championship. And at the end of the season, to be able to say that they went as far as they could.

Bringing Out the Best

The Girl's Varsity team of 1985-1986 anticipated a great season because there were many girls returning from last year's team. In fact, there were seven returning and only two seniors, Valorie Randolph and Gertie Frazier. The newcomers to the team aided in the rebounding department. The players of 1985-1986 seemed to be dedicated to doing their best every time they got on the court. The team didn't really have a dominant player this year. Every one on the team worked together. Sometimes one player would take control of the team and lead the others to victory. As an added assistant, Coach Curry proved to be an inspiration to the players.

Practice Makes Perfect

The Junior Varsity girls have been under the leadership of Mrs. Charlene Ross for seven years. So far this year they have compiled an 8-3 record. The team is composed of 4 sophomores and 4 freshmen. Of the 4 sophomores only 2 starters are returning, Joanne Bates and Teresa Saxon. Mrs. Ross has expressed the feeling that she wants to retire, so this may be her last year.

The team has suffered a little through this season but may be coming into their own. They often tend to foul a lot. The rebounding department is also weak, because of the loss of Karen Smith to Varsity. The offense threat lies in the hands of Teresa Saxon. The defense threat is considered to be Linda Maner.

"Practice makes perfect. But when we lose, all the fun goes away and it's all work and no play."

A Team of Destiny

"This year's team has the ability to reach future varsity success. The team is still young but we have made progress during the season. During the four days of practice, Coach Epps provides much inspiration. He also requires much dedication."

Adrian Priester

The Junior Varsity Basketball Team suffered a lot this season. This inexperienced team consisted of mainly young players with no returning players. A case in point, the starting five consisted of three ninth graders.

Even though the team has many obstacles, they proved that they could overcome them. Coach Epps pointed out that, as the year went by, the team gradually progressed. There was really no outstanding player and their main objective was to play as a team.

This year's team can also be described as a team of destiny. One such example of this is the game against Wade-Hampton. It was the second half and two of the starters were on the bench. The team was down by nine points, and came back to win by one point.

Such gut level hustle if continued, should certainly prove to make varsity players for the future.

Strengthening the Athlete

"Being a member of the Weightlifting Team has really helped me in many ways. I have won a few trophies and a couple of plaques. It has really shown me what the word competition means."

Walt Windham

The weight-lifting program has truly proven to be a valuable asset to the athletic department. Since the weightlifting program has started, under Coach Ron Blackmon, the number of injuries have gone down. The ideal of weight-lifting is to strengthen the athlete. Eight out of the nine people who have received football scholarships were on the Weightlifting Team.

The Weightlifting Team of 1985-1986 was very young; it had only two seniors, Walt Windham and Willie "Bill" Frazier, and could only gain experience as the year went by. Scheduled competitions were to occur after press time and hopes were high for the usual successes.

Dramatic Changes

The baseball program has undergone a dramatic change and has gotten more public notice under a new coach Walter Banks. The coach has established a fall practice and has encouraged more young men to participate. Coach Banks has also tried to organize a Junior Varsity team. A new added interest is the addition of Bat Girls whose functions are to gather foul balls, bats, and provide inspiration for the team. Some Inspiration!

The team of 1985-1986 is very young and the coach states that they are years away from conference champs. The strength of the team lies in the pitching staff. The players that are expected to stand out are Dawan Smith, Herman Gray, and Dexter Whosendove.

Coach Walter Banks, an experienced player himself, has been in baseball since the age of twelve. He believes 90 % of baseball is hustle and the other 10 % is mental attitude. He also has a "no cut" policy believing that a person cuts himself. The major advantage that Coach Banks has is that he knows very important people in the baseball community. He is a pro scout for the Cincinnati Reds.

"This year's baseball team is very inexperienced; but the key to having a successful season is hardwork, execution, dedication, consistency, and pride."

Getting an early start and having more people from last year's track team are some of Coach Ramsbotham's expectations in concluding whether or not the season would be good or not. Coach Ramsbotham noted "I thought last season was fairly good, because my returning players did well and also my young (trackers) people did well." Even though the team was considerably smaller it had grown and matured, because of the leadership of Coach Ramsbotham. "If you are willing to go out for track I am looking for a person who works hard and who is able to learn." Some of those people on the track team who Coach Ramsbotham thought would accomplish their track goal if only they would work up to their potential were: Carlos Manuel, Gertie Frazier, Carol Taylor, Vivian Maner, and Greg Burison. Coach Ramsbotham indicated "I plan to continue to be there to help them develop their skills to make the track team better in the future." Coach Ramsbotham looks forward to getting a better developed track facility, and to winning a State Championship.

As a new attitude prevailed throughout the year with increased student spirit the selected group of Basketball and Football Cheerleaders has increased the overall team morale of both major sports and has been noticeable throughout the year.

Although this is Ms. Sheila Leath's second year as a sponsor, her new attitude has continued to improve the cheerleaders' image. With intense workouts and practice, being a cheerleader is a privilege and these girls regard their position as this. With the guidance of the other athletes, the cheering squad should continue on their new and improved road to success.

As both seasons close down the yells and jeers of the crowds and cheerleaders will echo on through both sets of bleachers. Those crucial moments could have never been survived without these cheerful girls on the sidelines.

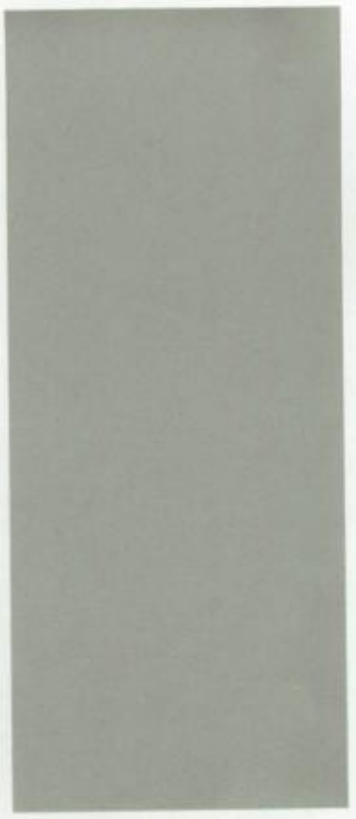
Recreation for Life

This team gave new meaning to the word "growth." It consisted, for the large part, of players who were sharpening skills acquired last year. Coach Tracy Epps indicated that the fundamental purpose of tennis would be building the program.

Gerald Perry, the 84-85 MVP, was predicted to emerge as the team leader. The only two opposing teams expected to cause some problem were the Estill Gators and Hilton Head. Coach Epps was encouraged that the fans have become interested in tennis as a viable sport.

Those who participated in this sport realized its "staying power." Tennis could be enjoyed in years to come as recreation for life. For the present, the teammates conceded that they would work hard to make the game a major part of the sports scene for the Tigers.



"Playing tennis is a sport of great mental technique. It involves the exercise of personal stamina which is dependent on no one else. Its individuality allows persons to play it not only as a team sport but also for their personal use."

Almost Anything Goes

Almost anything goes when it comes to eating. Demonstrating their expertise as learned from Miss Manners and assisted by Lise Speck are senior, Walt Windham, and junior, Jeffery Thomas, as they gobble down cream pie at the annual Almost Anything Goes. The Allendale Spring Festival gained national attention from ABC's Good Morning America. Events featuring the athletic prowess of adults and students bring spirit throughout the county as it pits peers against each other in gruesome battles to the final triumph.

Concentration

"All right you guys," these were the famed words of Mr. Siren who many deemed the most bouncy and energetic instructor here. His vivid depictions of World History and Economics Government gave students an added dimension of understanding. Sophomores Randy Bowers and Lisa All concentrated hard on their studies, the basic requirement of Mr. Siren. Intense concentration was necessary especially in a course such as Economics.

Dedicated teachers, increased study and determination were the keys to the fulfillment of our educational dreams as the second big year in Governor Riley's Education Improvement Act impacted on us.

1. Speaking at the annual Honors and awards is our principal, Frank Hassell. In his thirteenth year here, Mr. Hassell has been a strong leader in growth of the school and thousands of students. 2. Visiting Mr. Daley's Economcis and Government class is a familiar face, Board member Marion Riley, who is accompanied by our forceful new superintendent, Mr. Dill Gamble.

I decided to teach because it is simply the most critical form of employment available in the U.S.A.! John Kennedy, a man I admire greatly, once said that, "America's tomorrow is in the hands of our young people today." I feel that I can help influence those responsible for our tomorrows. I take my pursuit seriously because if I didn't, it would be an insult to everything our great nation stands for. I want to motivate. I want to open eyes.

" Americans at Their Best "

Good Students Don't Burn The Midnight Oil Anymore.

Thanks to electricity, students are studying by much better light these days.

But lighting is only one of thousands of innovations brought about by electricity. Innovations that have made education more exciting. And more challenging.

So work hard. And we at SCE&G will be working hard too. Working to insure that you'll always have a plentiful supply of the world's most important energy.

SCE&G. WE KNOW HOW IMPORTANT ENERGY IS TO YOU.

One day, in the far away future from now, you will take down this book and flip through its pages. You will be caught, for that split second, in a time frame from your past.

In your mind, you will once again walk through classrooms and hallways . . . hearing laughter and voices and the loud clang of the bell that once sent you flying. You will look through a mirage of memories, grasping it all again; reflections in a classroom window . . . the sounds of "Tiger Rag" . . . the most fantastic touchdown of the year . . . winning, and losing . . . passing, and getting by . . . the groups of friends in clusters at lunch . . . the time you forgot to take your hat off, and lost it for an entire year . . . home-game-dances . . . car washes and marathons . . . Saturdays, given to this yearbook . . . your prom . . . the catch in your throat as you are handed your diploma . . . and then the slap of hands in a final farewell.

One day, in the far away future from now . . . you will realize that even the best of life cannot be kept forever.

Come and see us then. You will be ready to protect the things you have, and the people you love. We will be ready . . . to show you how.

CAROLINA COMMERCIAL BANK

ALLENDALE FAIRFAX

A new account daily!

If you had a bank account that credited your account each morning with $86,000 —

That carried over no balance from day to day —

Allowed you to keep no cash in your account —

And every evening cancelled whatever part of the amount you failed to use during the day —

What would you do?

Draw out every cent every day, of course, and use it to your advantage!

Well, you have such a bank — and its name is "TIME"
Every morning, it credits you with 86,000 seconds.

Every night, it rules off as lost whatever of this you have failed to invest to good purpose.

It carries over no balances.

It allows no overdrafts.

Each day, it opens a new account with you.

Each night, it burns the records of the day.

If you fail to use the day's deposits, the loss is yours.

There is no going back.

There is no drawing against "Tomorrow."

It is up to each of us to invest this precious fund of yours, minutes and seconds in order to get from it the utmost in health, happiness and success!

We would like for you to open an account with us. Although we cannot automatically credit your account with $86,000 each morning, we can provide you with a complete range of banking services.

Breaking the line

the greatest privilege

What's the greatest privilege one can have? Why, breaking the lunch line, of course. Some have considered every angle, including murder, to secure a position nearer the front. After all, this is survival of the fittest! And, no matter if the lunch ladies are serving steamed sausage and red rice — eating even that is serious business. Hunger pangs know no altruism.

A few lucky souls can break the line legally. Seniors, after waiting for three long years, finally obtain the privilege of breaking the long, hungry line but only during the first ten minutes of the hour. Terrance Bing was the lucky winner of a free pass to break the line for a week as a result of a drawing during yearbook sales. And the créme de la créme — students who make the honor rolls are given a pass to break the line for a whole quarter! An excellent reason to make good grades!

And then there are the 108 students who tried breaking the line illegally. Their punishment? One whole week of sitting in the office and having to eat-LAST — after all the rest are finished. Hardly worth it.

Changes and Memories

A new outlook. This year has seen much change, a new superintendent, a new athletic director, new teachers, three new clubs, re-instatement of sock hops, a new grade point ratio system, a new music program and, of course, the breaking of ground on our new school. These exciting things have affected us and will have impact on the future. These extras created memories that will last forever.

Looking back, we can say that we have lived each day to the fullest. And, as with all good things, our year has come to an end. We close many doors, but the doors to memories will never be locked. The Tigerama has captured these memories that we all will cherish. May the outlook always be glorious.

1. Somewhere deep in the contract was a clause too easily overlooked — a minute part of the job description. Anyway, a teacher's work is myriad, and never done. Bob Daley, along with other new teachers, brightened our lives this year. 2. Our main purpose for being here was, after all, to learn and classes were serious business all the way — only ten absences, heavy homework, progress reports and tests. Verna Elmore and Mary Ann Harrison get down to business in Family Living class. 3. How proud we all are of our Golden Brigade. They brought home three trophies this year. Their outstanding show was an inspiration to see!

Rednie For Cassandra Miller
A Special Friend

To a very special friend. You are special to me because whenever I needed I just called on You and You were there. I hope you Jerry the best of luck at what ever you do. You deserve the best and I hope you get every thing you put in life. As you climb to the top of the ladder of success, I hope all of your steps are clear to climb. Every rainbow has a pot of gold. Just like every dog has a bad day So does you lives days. I hope you live it with the best of Your Strength.

Jerry You have capability, the qualifications, and integrity to be the best. Just hold your head up high. Your shoulder up and walk like a man. And be a man. Trust in God all of problems will be solved. Shattered dreams will come to those who don't believe. But those who are dreamers who believe in the impossible will see. That all dreams come true.

Jerry, you are very witty. You can bright my day any day. You can turn my rainy day into a beautiful shiny day. Stay your self. May God bless You, You and yours. Because as we all know. Marion Kelly Or Carol will certainly dress you.

I Love ya.

Take care yourself and yours where ever the Jackass may be! (like)

Your sister, Mother, Aunt. But especially Your friend.

Friends For ever. A friend in need is a friend indeed.

Remembrance

Brother

It gives me a great pleasure to sign your yearly annual. I'm so glad I got to know you much better this year. It'll it just thrills me. Well T.C. the year is about to an end. And I can truly say you with your half good and dry jokes made it the best year yet. Your a very special person to me and don't you ever forget that. I've really enjoyed joking and playing around with you this year. I've also grown very close to you. I would like for you to know that you have all it take to make it to the top so stop acting like "Fred" and get that homework out. Well I'm not going to take up a whole page like some people so continue being as sweet, intelligent, and fine as you are. And I'll always admire that sweet smile no matter how down in the dumps you are. Just Remember the "Dee" said that T.C. can and you really can. Love YA YA Sis.

Love Stay Sweet

"Deshelle" Renee Bryant

By the way if you plan on going to college don't give them such a hard time. Because I think between you and me we almost drove Mrs. Hestland crazy (HA-HA). And Mrs. Nettles you and I was only ignoring stupidity. You taught me that so thanks. "Dee"

Goodluck in the future
